LOCAL NEWS.

This is ladies' night at the rink.

The Opera Troupe shows to-night at the Music Hall.

Fort street men declare that the circus is a bonanza.

"Enthusiastic Admiration" has been lately defined as a *

The hackmen are complaining that business is picking up.

The sickest pigs in town fell indisposed after three o'clock.

The circus gives a matinee to-morrow afternoon, and a show in the evening.

O, by the way we had almost forgotten to mention that the Alameda arrived yesterday.

There is lots of fun in running an ice cream saloon, if it isn't a cold day and you get left.

Mr. John Lyle, who was sent home by the Alameda, died shortly after reaching San Francisco.

The horse which ran away yesterday morning on Fort street, was caught by a man with a cloud in his face.

Messrs. Henry Davis & Co., received a large invoice of fresh fruits and eatables by the steamer yesterday.

The residents in the vicinity of Beretania and Richard streets are complaining that early tramps are stealing their milk.

The man who turns up his toes in the face of the Honolulu public is not always a dead man.

A hula is announced to take place at one of the most aristocratic places in town before the year is done.

Messrs. Lyons & Cohen will sell amongst other things a fine, gentle, saddle horse and some plants from Antonio's place.

The spile driver is at work by the King's boat house. His Majesty is going to have an addition built on the house to store boats in.

Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express have received a supply of stamped envelopes which will be supplied to those desiring them at the Express Office.

If the boating races turn out in the end as the practice races have, there will be considerable money change hands at the finish.

We understand that the Australian steamers will connect with the Oceanic line of steamers here, and this port will be the terminus of both lines.

The man who tried to stop a hack yesterday evening on Fort street, after the circus was out, got so badly left that he left a part of his coat sleeve on one of the shafts. Hoka.

Messrs. C. Brewer & Co.'s Boston vessel will leave that port on or about the 25th of November which will give an opportunity to those wishing goods sent out to write by next mail.

Rev. J. W. Smith, of the Tabernacle Church, San Francisco, resigned and bade adieu to his congregation on the 15th on account of continued ill health, and has gone to Santa Barbara.

The barkentine W. H. Dimond brought down a large number of hogs, 32 died on the trip down, and the rest are now in quarantine, as they are reported to have the hog cholera.

The Captain Tripp trial which gains notoriety by its social momentum still goes over. Mr. Young, a poet of uncertain fame, once said something about "The Thief of Time." The Press has won the displeasure of both, adulterers and Judge—so we understand.

The new line of steamers between here and San Francisco and here and the Colonies, which is mentioned in our foreign news columns, will commence to run, it is stated, between this port and the terminal points between the 20th and 30th of November next.

The bark Alden Bessie was to leave Portland for Hongkong on the 11th inst, and will probably arrive here on the 30th instant. The steamer William is to leave on the 29th, may stop here en route to Hongkong, to be followed by the Coloma and the Spartan; all letters for China, will be forwarded by Messrs. Laine & Co. the agents, in the event of no mail being sent from the Post Office.

Mrs. J. P. Nichols, sister of Mr. C. K. Miller of this place, died in Oakland, California, of dropsy of the heart, on the 3rd instant. Mrs. Nichols was taken suddenly ill about seven o'clock in the evening and died at a quarter before nine of the same evening. She was perfectly well during the afternoon. Mr. Miller, who is one of our most estimable younger men, has the sincere sympathy of his many friends.

The purser of the Alameda has not been changed as he should have been, provided he was in the same boat with the purser of the Mariposa—at least so say the friends of both men. We take no side as we know neither of the gentlemen.

A quiet little wedding took place last night at the residence of Mr. S. G. Wilder in Nuuanu Valley. Mr. Hugh Gunn, formerly an officer in the Honolulu Rifles was married to Miss M. C. Wilder. The wedding was a private one and only the immediate friends of the young people were present.

The revenue cutter Thomas Corwin, arrived at San Francisco on the 12th instant from the Arctic, and reports the loss by heavy weather of the whalers George and Susan, and Mabel. The latter had caught but two whales. The George and Susan was clean. The Corwin brought down the survivors of the crew of the wrecked whaler Napoleon, of New Bedford.

The circus last night drew a good house. With all deference to the management there is no doubt that they give too much show for the money, i. e., they give too much of one thing in one act. Everything they give is good, but the details of the acts are repeated until the audience becomes tired. The opening act of any circus is made interesting by the novelties of the movements. The horses of the circus are only medium. The music is good; the individual performers are the best part of the circus and make up its success—for success it is. There is nothing above the average except the Japanese who turn their heels into brains. Taken as a whole the show is the best that has visited these islands for years.

On Saturday the circus will give two performances, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. The popular prices established will be continued and will doubtless be the means of giving the company full houses.

They say: That the policeman who wanted to look into the Hotel street disturbance didn't want to see further than the Press office window; that the future of the dudes in Honolulu is dependent upon the men who are ruled by the women; that the best way to tumble is to fall down—provided you don't sit on somebody; that the Sunday morning racket is played out until Sunday afternoon or early Monday morning; that the Myrtle boat boys will "soak out" their boat just before the races; that the Frenchman who was talking to the King the other night was shouting over a space of ten feet—proof: they say; that the little ones sometimes know more than their elders; that the Fort street school is growing into the colonial plan of education—in a horn; that the opium dens are said to be among the aristocratic circles—concentric circles as it were; that the best phases of Honolulu life are seen when the subjects are asleep; that the race toward fame is something that will never include a native; that the end sometimes commences with the beginning; and that the happiest man in town is the one who sleeps most and talks less.

Signor Farini with his operatic troupe, arrived by the Alameda yesterday, and will make their first appearance, this evening, at the Music Hall, in one of their choicest selections. All the members of the troupe are in good health and spirits, and are charmed with our delightful climate and scenery. Last evening they enjoyed the entertainment given at the Hawaiian Hotel, by the Band, under the able leadership of Prof. Berger, in honor of their arrival, and were greatly pleased at the perfection with which the Band rendered choice selections from some of the most eminent composers. The hotel and grounds were beautifully illuminated with Japanese lanterns which, combined with the soft moonlight, gave a very pretty effect and made the evening entertainment one of the most delightful we have ever witnessed. Mlle. Mani Zora, prima donna soprano; Miss Helen Avery, soprano; and Mlle. Emma Hoff, prima donna contralto, are reputed to be fine vocalists, and with the gentlemen of the troupe make up the finest operatic troupe that has ever visited the Kingdom. Their costumes are costly and the indications are that a rich treat is in store for lovers of good music.

Answers to Correspondents.

X. A.—If you think so, all right, but excuse us if we continue our former opinion that the best way out of a scrape is to eat and sleep.

The Only Seer.—No, if political parties turn out as badly as they have in the past you will have no occasion to join either the Government or the Opposition party.

S. M. W.—No, you may be a strong man but it does not suit our principle to dispute your advantage. If you try to get off with us as you have threatened—well, then we'll see.

Police Court Items.

Adultery case: Headless driving: Joe Dagrel, fined $6.

Forgery: Ah Fook, committed to trial.

Express Rule No. 6: Charles Hall, fined $6.

Swindling: Kalea and Pukku, were fined $50 each for obtaining money under false pretences.

MARRIED.

GUNN—WILDER, At Estabank, the residence of Hon. S. G. Wilder, Thursday evening, Oct. 22nd, 1885, by Rev. J. A. Cronan, pastor of Fort St. Church, Mr. Hugh Gunn and Miss Mary Caroline Wilder, both of Honolulu.

Williams, Dimond & Co.'s Circular.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 1, 1885.
Dear Sir: Our last circular was dated October 10th, per steamer Mariposa.

Sugar.—We have no change to note in the prices of refined in our local market.

Eastern and Foreign Markets.—Since our last report the New York market for raws has ruled quiet and few transactions have taken place, and these have been on a slightly lower basis than our last quotations. Cuba centrifugals 96% have been sold at 6 cents. Purchases are only for immediate consumption. The cautious and conservative policy of Refiners in replenishing their stocks of raw material results in a spasmodic demand, the liberal buying of one or two days being followed by an almost complete withdrawal of buyers until their requirements again bring them into the market. Holders are still confident in the future and considering the dullness, prices of raws have been well maintained. The demand for refined is limited, and trade depressed. Prices have declined materially. This dullness is no doubt, partly owing to the marketing of the Louisiana crop, which is large.

We quote from Messrs. Willett & Hamilton's advices of the 8th inst, as follows: "Meetings so far this month are at the rate of 3,050 tons per day. Stocks in our hands decreased 7,340 tons, and is now 32,453 tons under last year. Beet Crops—Estimates are further reduced. M. Licht reports 1% less richings in the roots, which would reduce crops below 2,000,000 tons.

Latest cables from Germany report that continued rains are doing serious injury to the crops. Great confidence exists in an early improvement in the markets.

Our latest telegraphic advices from New York of to-day date show a slight improvement in raws.

Cuba Centrifugals 96%, 6 1/2c. Market steady.

London cables of Oct. 14th report an advance of 1d per ton to say over 4 1/2c. Nearly 15 3/4d for 88% test. European and Foreign markets steady. The Brazil crop is small and late. Cuba crop exceeds that of last year.

Other West Indies, smaller. Latest cables from Manila of October 14th quote prices Extra No. 1 Manila sugar @ 10 to 11 D. S. per 2,240 lbs. f. o. b. at 2 1/2c. At 2 1/2c. with exchange at $4.84 the present basis is $5.60 for 91 per cent.

Recd—Market dull with no disposition on the part of buyers to say over 4 1/2c. Nearly the entire shipment per Alameda of 2,700 bags was stored warehouse.

We quote prices at $1.90 60 days or 2 per cent. discount. Thus for this season about 100,000 bags Carolina and 4,000 bags Japan have been landed here.

Charters—Market continues steady with few transactions to note at 27 1/2d Liverpool for wood and 32 1/2d Cork, U. K. for iron.

Enquiry limited. Wheat has advanced here under favorable English market.

Exchange—London 60 days sight $4.83 1/4. New York sight 1/2 per cent.

Flour, G. E. Ex. Fam., $4 50; El Dorado, $3.40.

Barley, No. 1, feed, $1 45 per cbl. Grd. Barley, $2.50 per ton.

Oats, fair, $1 25; Medium, $1 35; choice feed $1.40 per cbl.

Hay, compressed W. & O. $14 to $15.50. Large bales, $13 to $15.50.

Lime, $1.45 per bbl.
